Strength and fragility (Lady in Red), 2019

For the exhibition: 'Beyond the Horizon: An Art Exhibition on Freedom' Part one: The freedom to change perspective (sky) A trilogy that offers a heavenly perspective. Inspired by the captivating vistas of Iceland, an untamed land known for its unforgiving climate, these photographs embody the essence of the duality of strength and vulnerability. The contrast between vibrant life and the relentless hostility of the environment is cleverly maintained throughout the installation and reflected in the execution, where delicate prints are supported by rough, unpolished steel frames.

Pigmented ink, printed on canvas, framed in raw steel.

Dimensions: H:200 cm W:51 cm

It is a Figurative-abstract Style. Representation of a woman's face who thinks about her future and the places she will have to visit during her diplomatic career depending on her destiny. On the right side of the painting, a representation of the world. The painting is inspired by my experience as a diplomat's wife in each country where we have had the honour to represent Belgium. J'utilise une technique spéciale incluant des feuilles d'or afin de mettre en valeur le tableau.

Leap of faith, 2023

It is a new beginning for the man. He is fearless and full of confidence that he will not fall. More than that it will be rewarding and freeing. Even if he looks well-established there is a mysterious side to him with his eye patch and cap that are not matching with the rest of his neat clothes. The sprinkles hint to the magic of a new start. It is a call for confidence into new beginnings.
